Louisiana, USA

Currently B&W Energy Services is working on a substantial project, Calcasieu Pass LNG. It is a massive export terminal in Louisiana, USA, that produces ten million tonnes per annum. The $5.8B project is planned to open in 2022. B&W is presently performing air blows and potentially adding aqualazing in the coming weeks. The project should be wrapped up this fall. This is another partnership with EPC contractor Kiewit Constructions and B&W leadership says, "We're excited to be selected by Kiewit to support these state-of-the-art combined-cycle facilities."
